THE 28TH ENGLISH SPEECH CONTEST

항공관광과 The 28th

English Speech Contest

참가자 원고

Hello, everyone. My name is Dahye Youn, and I'm a student in the Air Travel and Tourism department at Suwon Science College. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to introduce myself today. My life motto is, "Luck is what happens when preparation meets opportunity," and this belief has guided me to live with passion. It's also why I'm standing here today.

First, my dream is to become a flight attendant. I have three years of experience working at a wedding hall, where I worked more than eight hours a day, often standing for long periods. This job required me to stay calm under pressure and handle various customer needs with a positive attitude. Through this experience, I realized that I am well-suited for the service industry and truly enjoy helping people feel comfortable and valued.

To achieve my dream, I thought about the skills I would need and realized that communication is very important. Flight attendants work as part of a team, so having strong teamwork and communication skills is essential. This is why I became the leader of my school's debating club, where I practiced both communicating effectively and collaborating with others.

Lastly, my greatest strength is my passion. Throughout college, I've successfully balanced both my studies and extra activities. I never give up on my dreams, and I love learning and growing. I believe these qualities will help me succeed in my future career, and I will continue to work hard to improve myself.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone. I'm Dahye Youn. Everyone has prepared diligently, so please make sure to uphold it. I will do my best! Have a great day!

Hello everyone! My name is Na Yeong Lee and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to introduce myself. I'm dreaming of becoming a cabin crew and I'm sure I have the qualities to be the best one.

(2) 1-E 이나영

Hello, I'm Nayeong Lee, who will participate in the 2024 English Speech Contest. It's a great honor to participate in the department's traditional event. As much as you gave me a precious opportunity, I will do my best!

First, the reason why I first dreamed of being a flight attendant was that I worked part time as a wedding helper and found out that my personality fits well with the service job. I developed my service skills by checking the customers' needs carefully and this experience convinced me that my job as a cabin crew fits me very well.

Second, I think English is crucial for interacting with foreign passengers and for ensuring safety and security onboard. I went to the Philippines to study English for 6 months, where I easily adapted by living with various Koreans and locals. While communicating with them, I realized the importance of English and tried to communicate with them by studying hard. Thanks to my effort, it became a little easier to communicate in English and I think this quality would be very helpful when I work as a cabin crew.

Lastly, I've been working as a representative of class in Air Travel and Tourism department. In the process of communicating with professors and many students, I learned how to listen to others and how to cope with unexpected situations. I believe that I will be able to respond flexibly to passengers onboard with the responsibility and communication skills gained through my college life.

"Believe you can and you will halfway there" is my motto. This motto helps me be more passionate about what I'm doing now. When I get the opportunity, I don't want to give up and make that opportunity a success and achieve my dream of becoming a cabin crew.

Thank you for your time and thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! My name is You Hyeon Seo, majoring in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today, I'd like to talk about why I dreamed of becoming a flight attendant and why I am fit for the job.

I always hoped for a service job because I like working with many people. I was able to be sure of my dream by working part-time job at restaurants and cafes. It was a little difficult because it was my first job, but thanks to my hard work, I was able to learn sincerity and service skills. Based on my outgoing nature, I want to expand my service skill by becoming a flight attendant who provides the best service.

I think responsibility is the most important thing because a flight attendant's priority is to ensure the safety of passengers. At college, I participated in the department promotion club. I planned and held various events such as speech contests. Through this process, I was able to learn teamwork and responsibility to cooperate with my team members. I think these will be helpful when working as a flight attendant.

In addition, I was able to build up various knowledge necessary for flight attendants, such as service and foreign languages at school. I was able to prepare well for a professional service provider, and I want to apply it quickly in the airline company. So, I will continue to work hard until the day I become a flight attendant.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone :)
I'm You Hyeonseo.
I'm so glad to participate in the speech contest.
Let's fly up together!

Hello everyone! My name is Sieun Lee and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science college. Today, I'm gonna talk about the reasons why I want to be a flight attendant and my qualities that best fit the job.

When I was little, I studied in an international school in Thailand for 7 years. During my time in Thailand, I was able to meet friends from various countries and understand other cultures.

I have had my dream of being a flight attendant since I was 10 years old. My family love traveling, so they took me and my sister to many different countries. Getting on planes was one of my favorite experiences because I was able to see flight attendants.

Once, there was a passenger who seemed to have difficult time breathing on the plane, but I saw the flight attendants who took first aid calmly without any panic, and I realized that the people who made my trip easier while getting on the plane were the flight attendants. After that, I had a dream to become a flight attendant who takes responsibility for the safety of the passengers.

Time passed, and I came to this school to achieve my dream of being a flight attendant. And to do so, I think language ability is the most important thing to being a flight attendant. Language skills are important to be able to easily receive requests from foreign passengers. I know how to communicate in English, and I'm also learning Chinese and Japanese to fulfill the requests of all passengers. Also, I can provide personalized services for other cultures.

Last but not least, I'd like to talk about my motto. My motto is 'In for a penny, In for a pound.' which means a person should finish what he or she has started to do, even though it may be difficult or expensive. I will never give up on my dream and do my best to achieve my dream.

Thank you for listening to my speech.

1-E 이시은

Hello my name is Sieun Lee and I hope you guys do your best to achieve your dream.

Your dream will always come true.

Hello, everyone I'm Kim Jiwoo, a student of Air Travel and Tourism department of Suwon Science College. First, thank you for giving me this opportunity to introduce myself.

I chose this major with the dream of becoming a flight attendant. The reason why I want to be a flight attendant is that I want to help passengers in difficult situations. Let me share my experience that motivated me to decide to be one. When I was younger, during my trip to Europe, I got lost at Frankfurt Airport while looking for the restroom. Since I was not very proficient in English, I felt quite scared. At that time a kind flight attendant helped me find my way, and I was deeply touched by her small act of kindness. It inspired me to dream of becoming a cabin crew who help passengers whenever and wherever.

One of my strengths and good personality is that I keep my composure all the time. I try to solve the problems calmly without being embarrassed. The essential duty of a flight attendant is to be responsible for the safety of the passengers. So, I think I'm suitable for the flight attendants who have to stay calm in case of an emergency at any time

And I focus on studying foreign languages to communicate with passengers from all around the world. I try to practice my English every day and watch American dramas a lot, which would be helpful when I work as a flight attendant.

Lastly, I have extensive volunteer experience, including guiding subway passengers and assisting at a senior center. These activities have taught me the value of service and communication, reinforcing my desire to work in the service field and help others.

I think these experiences would be the basis for becoming a flight attendant. I feel confident that I like this job and I can do it really well. I will continue to work hard to achieve my dream

Thank you for listening.

Hello, everyone.
It's an honor to participate in the best
school event.
I'll show you the best results since I've done my best.

A very good day to each of you! My name is Hanseul Lee ,a student of Air Travel and Tourism department of Suwon Science College. Before I start my speech, let me ask you a question. What is your dream? My dream is to be a flight attendant just like you. Today, I would love to share my experiences and quality time i spend to get closer to my dream.

First of all, my strength is that I listen to others truly and carefully. So my friends often share their concern with me and when they share their stories, I tend to empathize with their feelings and give the best reaction and sincere advice. It's not a big deal for me because I just love listening, but I was proud that people appreciated this. I think I'm ready to listen to my passengers and help them enjoy the safe and pleasant flight.

Second, I'm interested in learning new languages and cultures and good at speaking them. When I traveled to Malaysia for the first time, people in the country were basically bilingual. I was motivated to see them speak different languages and it encouraged me to try them as well. Currently, I am developing my English and Chinese skills through video conversation classes with foreigners. At first, I was not good at it, but I believe my skills are improving as time goes by.

Lastly, I would like to share my motto, which is "Action is the foundational key to all success". This motto inspires me to carry out something as soon as I decide to do it and helps me not to procrastinate. I believe my diligent and sincere personality will shine when I work as a flight attendant. Based on these strengths, I want to become a professional flight attendant who can provide the best service to the passengers and take pride in what I do.

Thank you so much for your concentration on my speech, I truly appreciate it. Have a great day, everyone.

Hello everyone. It's my honor to introduce myself in front of you today, and I want to thank you all for listening to my speech. My name is Suyeon Lee. I am a student of Suwon Science College, majoring in Air Travel and Tourism. Let me tell you about myself.

First, as for my personality, I am a sociable, outgoing person. I'm good at making new foreign friends. And I also like to speak English, so I have volunteered for tour guide in tourist attractions. I met many foreigners and helped them to learn Korean histories and cultures. I really like to meet different types of people, so it was a good experience for me. Through this, I noticed that many people including foreigners and natives felt comfortable with my bright personality.

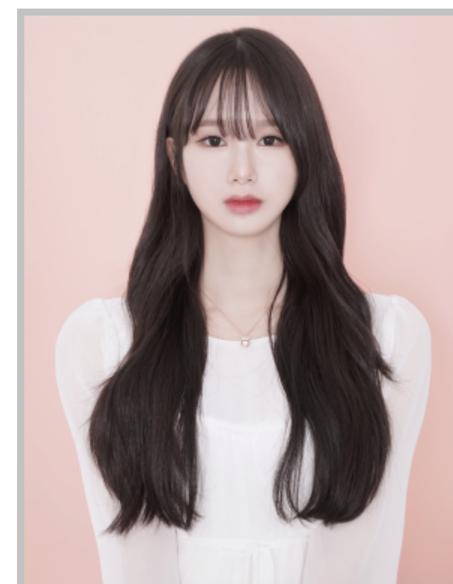

To develop my service experience, I worked at a cosmetics store. I introduced the popular products and recommended what I used well in my daily make-up. I helped the customers to find what they wanted. Since I was the only employee who can speak English, I took charge of all foreign customers to help them find what they needed. I felt proud of myself when customers were satisfied with my service.

Last but not least, my hobby is to work out at the gym. I try my best to keep in good physical condition. After working out, I feel a sense of accomplishment and it helps me to grow my consistency and steadiness. Flight attendant, which is my goal, consider physical fitness important, so I engage in physical activities like swimming, skiing, and pilates to maintain my health.

I hope all my passion and hard work will shine in the wonderful job and the wonderful place. Thank you for your precious time.

Hello everyone!
I'm Yunseon Noh.
It's a great honor to stand on this stage.
I hope this moment
becomes a major breakthrough for me.
Thank you.

Hello everyone. I'm so glad to stand here and talk about myself. My name is Yunseon Noh, a student of the Air Travel and Tourism department of Suwon Science College.

Let me talk about my personality first. I am a polite person. When I get on the bus or go to a café, I greet people by saying, "Have a nice day." I later realized this was a good thing. I am certain this will have a positive impact when I become a flight attendant. That's why people say I have a polite personality.

Second, I want to share my work experience. I had a great experience working as a salesperson at OLIVE YOUNG, a famous Korean cosmetic store especially popular among women. It was my first job, so I was really nervous at first. But my coworker was so supportive, and I adapted quickly. It was near the airport, so there were lots of travellers. This really helped me improve my Japanese language skills.

Thirdly, I will explain why I want to be a flight attendant. I want to be a flight attendant because it is a fascinating experience to meet people of different races.

I think meeting people from different races, cultures, and countries gives me a broader perspective. So, I chose a job in the service industry, especially as a flight attendant.

And finally, I'd like to share my motto with you: "Slow and steady wins the race." This motto has helped me through some difficult times, so I never give up and try hard to become a flight attendant.

Thank you so much for listening to my speech.

Hello everyone. My name is Yieon Wang, and I am majoring in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. I chose this major with the dream of becoming a flight attendant. Today, I'd like to talk about my qualities that best fit the job.

First, I'm good at speaking foreign languages. I believe communication skill is very important for flight attendants to understand and meet the passengers' needs. So, since I was younger, I've studied hard to learn Chinese, Japanese, as well as English. I practiced speaking in front of people and obtained certificates. Also, thanks to the intensive courses in college, I'm even more confident in speaking these languages. I believe my language skills will help me connect with passengers.

Secondly, I am a diligent person. While working in the service industry, I always arrived 10 minutes early to check my duties. This preparation boosted my confidence and improved customer satisfaction. Drawing from my diligence, I believe I can become a capable flight attendant who can demonstrate these qualities.

Finally, My motto is 'Do your best as if today is the last day of your life.' I believe that if I always give my best effort, the results will speak for themselves. Thanks to this motto, I've started reading one book per week to expand my knowledge and enhance my language skills. I believe that a broad knowledge base is essential for empathizing and communicating effectively.

My goal is to be a reliable flight attendant, and I trust my efforts will help me achieve this.

Thank you for listening to my story up to now.

Hello, I'm Hanbyeol Kim, a freshman class E, who will participate in the 2024 English Speech Contest:) It's a great honor to participate in the department's traditional event. As much as you gave me a precious opportunity, I will do my best!

Hello everyone! My name is Hanbyeol Kim and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today, I will talk about why I want to be a flight attendant and why I am fit to be a flight attendant.

The reason I want to become a flight attendant is that there are more opportunities to develop myself. I think that becoming a flight attendant will have more opportunities to learn service expertise through professional service training of airlines.

Also, the reason why I am suitable for a flight attendant is that I have a good memory so I don't miss my tasks. I don't forget what my friends say, so I played a role in taking care of my friends in class. In addition, I was able to receive a positive evaluation for my sincerity by submitting all the assignments without forgetting. If I become a flight attendant, I can catch and remember all the detailed parts of passengers and impress them.

In addition, I am a cooperative person. While studying together at college, I can develop cooperation and teamwork skills. In working as a team, listening well, speaking clearly and considering others first are very important, which I'm very good at. I think teamwork is important for flight attendants because it allows them to work together to ensure the safety and comfort of passengers.

I think that my strengths match the qualities required for flight attendants. I hope to be a flight attendant who delivers the best service to passengers, using my cooperation and teamwork skills.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! My name is Ji Yeon Kim and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today, I'd like to talk about why I decided to be a flight attendant and reasons why I'm suitable for the job.

First, I am skilled in foreign languages and familiar with foreign cultures. During my childhood, I went to Philippines for language learning and volunteering. Also, I went to Singapore to participate in an international conference. It was good experience to broaden my perspective. These experiences made me develop an understanding of each culture and a sense of service.

Second, I am a person with excellent problem-solving skills. When I was working as a server in a restaurant, I was initially very embarrassed when a customer fell down the stairs. However, I calmly called the paramedics and provided emergency assistance until they arrived. So, I was able to keep my customer's golden time. Through these experiences, I learned the importance of taking responsibility for customer safety.

Finally, I volunteered at a daycare center for the handicapped children. I took care of and played with them and even made a swimming pool for them. At the end of the volunteer work, I felt proud and responsible. I think taking care of people who have difficulties in something is the most significant service spirit for a flight attendant.

There are still many more things I need to do to achieve my dream. I will continue to work hard step by step and go in the direction of my dream.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! my name is Ha Neul Kim. I am excited to be here today and look forward to sharing my ideas with you! I believe we can achieve great things together.

Hello, everyone! My name is Haneul Kim, and I am delighted to be standing in front of all of you today. I am majoring in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. First, I would like to talk about my personality.

I am a highly enthusiastic and trustworthy person. Whenever there is a project or a trip to plan, I naturally take on the role of a leader and manager among my friends. I approach tasks with great passion and ensure their successful completion.

My dream is to become a flight attendant. Behind this aspiration, there is my desire to assist people from different cultures and countries, providing them with exceptional services from Korea during their flights. I thrive in adapting to new environments, and I believe that this profession would be a perfect fit for me.

Lastly and most importantly, my motto in life is "It's not over until it's over." I have realized that setting limits and giving up prematurely before seeing results can be detrimental. This motto is deeply engraved in my heart, reminding me to give my best until the very end on everything I take. It brings me great joy to see myself persisting and making continuous efforts, regardless of the challenges I face. I will strive relentlessly and dedicate myself to becoming a flight attendant.

Thank you all sincerely for listening to my speech.

Hello, my name is Sumin Jo, a student of Air Travel and Tourism Department at Suwon Science College. I'm very happy to introduce myself to you. Now, I'm going to tell you about my story.

First, I want to explain why I want to flight attendant. I believe it's important to choose a job that I love. I enjoy traveling, meeting new people, and helping others, That's the reason why I chose a career in the service industry, particularly as a flight attendant.

To prepare for this job, I worked part-time as a server at a family restaurant. I worked more than ten hours a day, mostly on my feet. It was a demanding job, but it was rewarding to provide excellent service to customers. Additionally, I have been involved in various volunteer activities. During high school, I had a chance of volunteering at an orphanage, a senior citizens home and a community center. I did laundry and helped bathe seniors. I was really happy to be able to help others and I hope I can continue doing so in the future.

Secondly, I work out at a gym three times a week. I run on a treadmill for an hour to build my physical strength, which I believe is crucial for service providers. Flight attendants often have to stay awake for extended periods to provide service, so maintaining the best physical condition is essential for them.

And finally, my little motto is "no pain, no gain." When I feel like giving up on studying or exercising, this motto helps me stay motivated by picturing my future self and all the success I can achieve.

Thank you so much for listening.

Listen to my story, thank you.

Hello, Everyone, I am Chaewon Lee, a student at Suwon Science College, majoring in Air Travel and Tourism. Thank you for giving this great opportunity to introduce myself. My goal is to be a professional service provider and I think I have the necessary qualities to be the best one.

First, I have the ability to communicate with various people. I regularly did volunteer work at a nursing home to make the elderly happy. I played the song "The Love I Made" on the recorder, and after the performance, the elders told me that I was the most memorable person. This experience helped me learn how to communicate with different kinds of people and how to respect them.

Second, I'm a very cooperative person and I like working in a team. I think teamwork skills are essential for working as a flight attendant and the top priority for flight attendants is to collaborate well with their colleagues. Using my characteristics, I used to solve conflicts among classmates and contribute to making better atmosphere. I'm confident that I can make flying more enjoyable and comfortable with my cooperative personality.

Lastly, I'm a person with a lot of knowledge in customer service. While attending Suwon Science College, I have been focused on learning as much as I can with the help of my passionate professors. Through my studies in Air Travel and Tourism, I have learned classes that cover English and Chinese, flight reservation, and service manners. Also, I have learned a lot about Global Manners, which would be beneficial when I work as a flight attendant.

As the saying goes, "Efforts never betray," I will continue to be a person who strives for my dreams and goals.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! My name is Ha-Young Jun and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today, I'd like to talk about why I decided to become a flight attendant and the reasons why I'm suitable for the job.

My mother is a current flight attendant. Since I was young, I have seen her working passionately, so I naturally dreamed of becoming a flight attendant. She always said that flight attendants must have the ability to deal with crises and be delicate to meet the passengers' needs. So I have tried to acquire those qualities. Through such efforts, I have become a person with sensitivity. I quickly catch changes in the people around me, and when I catch changes in their emotions, I approach them first and listen to their concerns.

Also, to gain hands-on experience, I have been working in various part-time jobs, including a department store delivery desk. It was my first part-time job, so I had a little difficulty in the beginning. However, as I tried my best to respond to customers with a bright smile and a kind way of speaking, I could see myself growing more and more. I was able to hear compliments from customers, colleagues, and managers that my efforts and sincerity were touching. This is when I realized that the service industry would suit me well. Also, I believe I will be able to perform well as a flight attendant because I have learned professional knowledge in school.

My goal is to become a flight attendant who provides the best service and live up to the needs of passengers from various cultures and countries.

Thank you for listening.

Hello, I'm Suyeon Ji. I'm honored to attend the 2024 English Speech Contest. I will try harder to become a flight attendant!

First, let me tell you why I dreamed of becoming a flight attendant. I think my friendly personality fits well with the flight attendant. When the new semester begins, I always approach my friends first, and while working part-time, I approach customers first with a friendly attitude.

Next, I will talk about my strengths that are suitable for flight attendant. I think that becoming a flight attendant requires having responsibility and communication skills. I am the leader of the class in my college now. I have to communicate with the professors about whether our class is doing well and what needs to be supplemented. Through this, I learned not only about responsibility but also about how to communicate with others well. I believe smooth communication leads to customer satisfaction so I would be able to use my communication skills with passengers and other cabin crew members.

Secondly, I have a lot of experience as well as knowledge in the customer service. While working part-time, I was able to learn how to respond to foreign customers and how to deal with dissatisfied customers. Now I am confident in creating and offering a satisfying service to passengers with my own know-how gained from my previous experiences.

There is a saying "Luck is what happens preparation meeting opportunity." This quote belongs to me. To prepare myself, I tried lots of things. I will try harder to become a flight attendant because I believe that good luck can be achieved when I give my best effort.

Thank you for listening.

Ladies and gentlemen. Thank you for boarding the flight toward my future.

Hello, everyone! My name is SeoJin Park, a student at Suwon Science College, majoring in Air Travel and Tourism. I have grown with a motto of becoming a flight attendant who can blend into various colors like a chameleon in different situations. Today, I will describe the colors I possess to all of you.

The first is orange. I immerse myself with enthusiasm and energy in everything I undertake. During my school life, I have diligently accumulated mileage points, putting my passion into everything I do. Just like the color orange, I have the ability to capture someone's attention with my vibrant presence.

The second is blue. I embody the color blue because I have a refreshing personality like a cool breeze and the adaptability to flow smoothly like water. When I face with challenges, I quickly come up with some solutions. This adaptability is crucial for a flight attendant, much like a chameleon adjusting to its surroundings.

The last one is black, which serves as a background that allows all the sparkling elements to stand out. I believe this color best represents me because of my strong teamwork skills. To make the strengths of team members shine and to move forward as one team, black is essential. And I am confident that I can fulfill this role.

These are the three colors I want to introduce to you. In the future, I aim to capture attention like orange, adapt like blue, and be a flight attendant who becomes the black color to shine the team.

Thank you for listening to my presentation.

Hello everyone. I'm Hannah Kwon, a student at Suwon Science College. I'm so happy to participate in English speech contest. I do my best and listen to my story.
Thank you.

Hello everyone. My name is Kwon Hannah and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. I'm dreaming of becoming a flight attendant and I'm sure I have the qualities to be the best one.

First, I dreamed of becoming a flight attendant who is responsible for service and safety in the limited space of an airplane. The plane has to depart on time, so it is important to be on time. Whenever I have an appointment, I also show respect to the other person by arriving 10 minutes early. I think my sincere personality is a good fit for a flight attendant's job where punctuality is important.

Second, my strong point is teamwork skills. Because I take the initiative in everything I do, I become a motivation for many of my friends. Also, we have many team projects for each subject. Every time I work on assignments with new classmates, I listen to their opinions and consider their ideas. This helps me develop a sense of cooperation. In this way, I learn more about the duties of being a flight attendant.

Lastly, attending Suwon Science College, I have been able to learn the qualities and abilities that service professionals should have. I actively participate in all the classes at college and build my knowledge in customer service. I develop my skills further to be equipped with professional attitude. I hope my qualities and efforts would bring good results.

Thank you for listening.

Good afternoon, everyone! My name is Kim Hyun-Joo, a student at Suwon Science College, majoring in Air travel and Tourism. Today I'd like to talk about why I'm suitable for the flight attendant.

First of all, I have excellent foreign language skills, which are essential for communicating with foreign passengers. I obtained TOEIC, TOEIC Speaking, and HSK certificate. Especially, when I was a high school student, I had an opportunity to meet and interact with Chinese students for a month. It motivated me to learn more Chinese and their culture. Now I can speak English and Chinese without much difficulty. With my language ability, I believe I can provide appropriate service to the passengers from diverse background.

As for my personality, I like to meet people and I'm pleased helping others. To get to know people better, I have worked as a sales clerk at a Beauty and Health Store and met a lot of customers of various ages. Providing customized service, I was able to develop the ability to understand and communicate with them. Most of all, when I solved their problems with patience, they were satisfied and became loyal customers. I think these experiences will help me work as a flight attendant.

In addition, I'm in good shape. While on board, the cabin crew works on their feet for a long time helping passengers for their safety and comfort. Since I decided to become a flight attendant. I started to do pilates to have good posture as well as strong physical health. By staying healthy, I will be able to provide good service, wearing smile on my face.

While attending Suwon Science College, I am learning from Global manners to many foreign languages. To make my dream come true, I always prepare the classes diligently and try to participate sincerely. Consequently, I become confident that I will be successful in working as a flight attendant.

Thank you for listening to my story.

Hello, everyone! My name is Jinsol Kim.

It's a great pleasure to stand here today and speak in front of such an amazing audience.
Thank you for your attention.

Hello, everyone. My name is Jinsol Kim. It's an incredible honor to have the opportunity to share my story in front of my respected professors and colleagues.

I'd like to start by saying that I'm very friendly and sociable. As a club president, when I participate in group activities, I enjoy initiating conversations and approaching people in a friendly way, even when meeting them for the first time. Through these activities, I've learned to communicate with others more easily and effectively.

I also work at a wedding hall in a hotel. The most rewarding part of the job is seeing the brides and grooms satisfied and receiving their praise after a perfect ceremony. Being responsible for the bride and groom's most precious day is truly valuable. Through this part-time job, I've learned about the service industry, which I believe is well-suited for me.

Among the qualities necessary for flight attendants, I believe communication skills are essential to provide customized service to passengers. During my time working in customer service, I learned how important it is to listen carefully to understand people's needs.

Lastly, I would like to share my motto: 'Actions speak louder than words.' It's good to make a plan, but I believe it's even more important to take action. Guided by my motto, I will continue to embrace challenges without hesitation and achieve my dream of becoming a flight attendant.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! My name is Young Eun Shin and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today I'd like to talk about why I decided to be a flight attendant, and reasons why I'm suitable for the job.

During my childhood, I went to the Philippines and Canada for language training for a year. I became friends with students from various countries. Getting to know about their culture was fun and the experience helped me expand my knowledge to achieve a broad, global mind.

Also, I have a strong sense of responsibility. When I was a high school student, I played a lot of leadership roles. To be faithful to my role, I used to go to school early every morning and receive attendance awards for all three years. Also, I won a prize for helping my friends. Those made me think that I'm qualified enough for the position of cabin crew, because that job requires being responsible for the safety of passengers all the time.

In addition, I understand that physical strength is very important quality for the professional flight attendant. That's why I work out at a gym once a week, so that I could build up my physical strength. I believe my strong physical and mental health will help me to work sincerely without being tired.

My motto is "Good Luck comes to the prepared." I will continue to study hard for my future career. I hope, someday I will be the representative of my department, my school, by becoming a flight attendant of Korean Airlines, the biggest airline company in Korea.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! My name is Minchae Kwon. I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today, I'd like to share the story of how I came to dream of becoming a flight attendant and why I believe it suits me well.

So I decided to have the future career in the service field, especially a flight attendant, who can meet diverse cultures and languages.

In addition, I was able to improve my communication skills by participating as a teacher in the church and working at a bakery for a year. It made me develop my communication skills as well as service skills. While working at the bakery, I was rewarded by the way the customers thanked me, visiting again and saying that I was kind to them. Hello everyone, I'm Jennie Um. Before I start my speech, I'd like to ask a question. Do you have your own life motto? If so, what is it? Today, I would like to share my motto and my aspiration.

My life motto is "The only source of knowledge is experience." I have been able to learn about consideration and altruism that can only be learned from experience through various volunteer activities. Since I was 15 years old, I have been volunteering for elderly people, which taught me to cultivate respect for the elderly. Additionally, I also participated as a daily teacher in children's field trip activities, where I learned the importance of safety for children and how to empathize with them.

I am currently a student of Air Travel and Tourism department of Suwon Science College. While attending school, I was able to learn about the service manners, consideration, and cooperation to provide the right service for others.

My goal is to become a cabin crew who provides best service and takes responsibility for passengers' safety. I think that my professional knowledge and various experience of volunteering can fit well with my job as a cabin crew.

Hello, everyone. I am very happy to participate in the English Speech Contest in our college. Through this experience, I was able to grow a lot and I will continue to be a person who strives for my dream. Let's all work hard for our dreams! Thank you.

I like to communicate with people very much. So when I was a high school student, I was active in the student council. And now I have a part-time job at a cafe. I am able to develop a lot of service skills by dealing with a lot of customers. Through these experiences, I dreamed of becoming a flight attendant.

I think physical strength is important to be a flight attendant. So I am building up my physical strength by exercising for more than two hours a day. I am jogging for over an hour and spending the rest of my time building muscle strength. Thanks to these efforts, I can commute to college without getting tired and work even harder in any environment.

And I develop my foreign language skills at college with my passionate professors. While using various expressions and communicating with them, I was able to develop my English skills, and I got confidence in communicating with foreigners. As I am interested in English, I am studying now by remembering many English words and practicing various actual expressions. As a result, I was able to obtain high scores in TOEIC and TOEIC speaking.

In the future, I will continue to study languages and develop my physical strength to provide satisfactory service to passengers when I become a flight attendant .

Since I was younger, I've been very interested in foreign languages, and because I'm sociable, I think being a flight attendant would be suitable for me. The idea of welcoming new people in new languages every day sounds exciting, and it naturally led me to dream of becoming a flight attendant.

Hello, everyone. My name is Jina Park. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to participate in the English Speech Contest. I'll do my best!

Hello, everyone. My name is Jina Park. I am a student in the Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today, I will talk about why I dream of becoming a flight attendant and my qualities related to this.

First, the reason why I want to be a flight attendant is that I like meeting new people and learning new things. Also, I'm interested in learning foreign languages and cultures and getting along with diverse people. As a flight attendant, I think I can steadily develop myself as I am exposed to various languages and cultures.

Second, my strength is being positive. I tend to think positively about everything, so I say a lot of positive things to my friends. So my friends get a lot of courage and strength from me. I believe my positive personality will be helpful when I work with other colleagues or deal with passengers.

Third, I'm physically and mentally strong. Especially, I think a strong mentality is the most important thing because they need the ability to solve problems positively without being shaken by the trivial things that happen during the flight. So I want to be a flight attendant through my strengths and provide the best service and safety.

Finally, I have experience working as an announcer in the broadcasting club.

Every week, I prepared for the broadcasting by writing a script with other members. Through this experience, I was able to get communication skills and a sense of responsibility, which is essential for working as a flight attendant.

Based on my experience and knowledge built up for years, I'm sure I can be a professional flight attendant who can provide excellent service to the passengers.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! My name is Moon Seohyun, and I'm studying Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Thank you for giving me the time to introduce myself. Today, I'm going to tell you why I'm the suitable person for the flight attendant role.

First of all, my motto is "Live intentionally," and I've dedicated myself to living by this principle. Consequently, this has driven me to pursue my dream of becoming a flight attendant with passion and determination.

Furthermore, I speak Korean, English, and Japanese fluently. (私は日本語が得意で、日本人のお客様にも丁寧に対応できます。) My love for languages doesn't stop here—I'm currently learning Chinese and French because I believe that being able to communicate in five languages will make me an exceptional flight attendant. My journey with languages started two years ago, and through hard work, I became fluent in three languages in a short time. I am confident that I can do the same with Chinese and French.

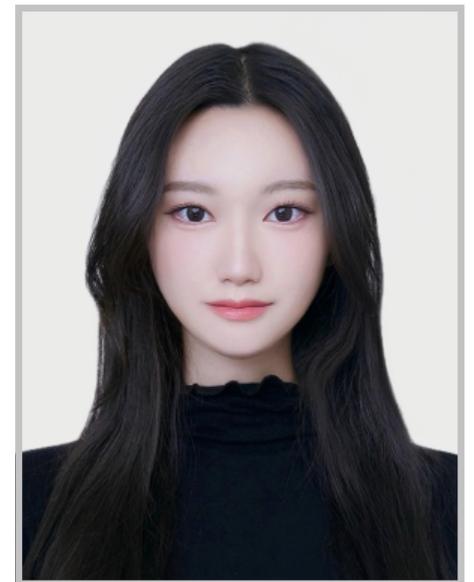

Additionally, working as a guide in a busy department store taught me the importance of excellent service for customers and how to deal with customers in diverse situations. This experience, coupled with my high school volunteer work at an animal shelter, has nurtured my ability to assist and care for others, reinforcing my desire to provide the best service possible.

In conclusion, my passion for languages, dedication to providing excellent service, and commitment to my goals align perfectly with the role of a flight attendant. I hope, some day, I'll utilize my skills and enthusiasm to give the memorable experiences for passengers.

Hello everyone, it's a pleasure to meet you.
I'll do my best to get a better results. Thank you.

Hello everyone. It's pleasure to meet every single one of you. My name is Dabin Heo. I want to have a little talk about my life and my dream job with you.

I grew up while watching my mom working as a flight attendant over 30 years and this inspired me so much. She looked so professional to be responsible for the safety of passengers. So I decided to major in Air travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Among all the subjects, my favorite one is English interview practice.

As you might noticed, I'm quite obsessed with English. I've been watching English media and have a conversation with foreign friends since I was in middle school. Now I'm able to communicate with foreigners freely and it would be very beneficial for working as a flight attendant who has to deal with passengers from diverse background.

I had a meaningful experience working as a staff of children amusement park. I truly enjoyed serving children and their parents. Sometimes, it was hard to provide custerized service to them and I felt exhausted of shift work. But I learned patience and the need to take care of my health as a service provider.

As I just said, the most important quality to work as a flight attendant for long period of time is physical condition. These days, I like to go to gym and do some muscle training, stretches to maintain my flexibility and health.

Last but not least, I want to share something with you. "Think deeply, so you can do it better" is my life motto. Acting first can make things go bad. So I always try to think deeply to make better results. Choosing this school after a long thought is the best decision I've ever made.

I hope we can see each other at the airport. Thank you.

Hello everyone. Thank you for having me today. I'm Heekyung, Jeon, majoring in Air Travel and Tourism Department at Suwon Science College. Today, I'd like to tell you about my goals and aspirations.

First, I am an outgoing person and I find great pleasure in helping others. I can get the energy from my friends and forget about my worries. I think that my active personality would be helpful when I become a flight attendant. One of the examples that show my personality is when I met an old lady who was carrying a heavy baggage by herself, I helped her right away. She expressed her gratitude to me and it made me feel rewarded.

Second, the reason why I want to be a flight attendant is that flight attendants can meet various people and experience various cultures. Actually, I have been to Turkey when I was younger, where I felt a lot of emotions while experiencing different cultures from ours. Also, I learned the importance of having a different perspective and flexible attitude. I expect I can learn more about the wider world and broaden my perspective when I become a flight attendant.

Lastly, my motto is "No pain, No gain." I always want to be the best so I try my best in anything. For example, I set a goal to improve my English and finally I obtained high level of certificates in TOEIC and TOEIC Speaking due to my effort. There are still many more things I need to do to achieve my goals. I will stay focused and do my best to show everyone and myself what an amazing flight attendant I can be.

Thank you for listening to my speech.

Hello, I'm Yejin from F class who participate in the English Speech Contest. Thank you for giving me a chance. I'll do my best to show you a great performance.

Hello everyone! My name is Yejin Han, a student of Air Travel and Tourism department of Suwon Science College. Thanks for this opportunity. Now, let me share my story.

First, I want to be a flight attendant because I enjoy meeting people and working with them. I also love experiencing different cultures by traveling to other countries. Additionally, I think my positive personality fits well with the job of a flight attendant.

Second, one of my strengths is my ability to communicate effectively with others. I am good at listening to my friends and understanding their situations. I often give them advice, and they say I am caring and dependable. It made me proud to help them, and I believe these skills are important for a cabin crew member.

My motto is "Luck Is What Happens When Preparation Meets Opportunity." So, I'm working on being prepared to seize opportunities. I'm improving my English skills by talking with foreign teachers three times a week and studying for the TOEIC exam.

Also, to maintain my health, I go to the gym at least twice a week. When I can't make it to the gym, I do activities like running, jumping rope, and stretching to stay physically fit. And I always try to stay positive, which helps me manage both my health and stress levels.

I will continue to be a person who strives for my dreams and goals, and I want to see myself achieving them. Thank you for listening.

Hi, there. How are you all today? Thank you for giving me a chance to introduce myself. My name is Minseo Kim. I'm a student in the Air Travel and Tourism department of Suwon Science College.

Dream as if you'll live forever. Live as if you'll die today. This motto helps me to be more passionate about what I'm doing now and try my best everyday.

The biggest reason I want to be a flight attendant is that I like to help others actively in flight. I usually do my best to carry out my duties and I think it's the most important qualities as a service provider.

Now, I want to show my competence as a flight attendant through the knowledge I learned at the college. I'm the person who is always ready to help people with dedication. I believe being service minded is the most important because always the good customer service comes from sincere heart. Good communication skills and bright smile are also important, but if it doesn't have sincerity, the passengers will not be completely satisfied. With those qualities, I will be a flight attendant equipped with greater service mind than many other people.

Talking about my strength, I am an icebreaker person. Thanks to my outgoing personality, I can make any atmosphere pleasant. Additionally, I prefer working in a team. There is a saying that 'Two heads are better than one'. If I work with others in a team, I can enjoy better outcome through working together. Also, in a team, we can share our responsibility and workload with each other.

I think those qualities of mine allow me to fit in well in the service field.

Once again, thank you all for listening to my speech on this beautiful day.

Good to see you! I'm Minseo Kim from class H.

Hello everyone, my name is Taehyeon Kim. First of all, I really appreciate this valuable experience. Through this opportunity, I hope I will get more confidence and become a more qualified flight attendant. Now, let me start introducing myself.

1-D 김태현

Hello, I am Taehyun Kim. I am very grateful for the opportunity to participate in such an honorable competition. I will do my best until the day I become a flight attendant based on this opportunity.

The reason I want to be a flight attendant is that cabin crews can make passengers' flights very comfortable and enjoyable. When I was 18 years old, I had a chance to take a plane to Kazakhstan for a history trip. At that time, I was very nervous and worried since it was my first flight. However, a flight attendant noticed my passport and greeted me sincerely in Korean. In that moment, I felt comfortable and happy. I realized then that flight attendants have the power to make someone's flight comfortable and enjoyable. That is why I want to be a flight attendant. I want to make my passengers' flight shine with my bright smile.

Now, I'm going to tell you about my personality and strengths. I am a positive person. I focus on the good in everyone and spend my time thinking about solutions, not problems.

Also, I believe empathy is the most important quality for flight attendants because it allows them to understand passengers' needs and provide excellent service. My strong point is empathy. I developed this ability while working in a counseling club, listening to my friends and helping them with their concerns. I am confident that this experience has made me a strong candidate for a job as a flight attendant.

Lastly, my motto is, "Try to live a life without any regret." I always keep this sentence in mind, which gives me the courage to try everything without fear and approach every moment with confidence.

Thank you for listening to my introduction.

Good afternoon, everyone who gathered here for the contest. It's a great honor to stand in front of all of my professors and colleagues. My name is Eom Huiyun.

Have you heard a sentence saying, "Even in winter, flowers bloom."? It gives me an idea that even if it could last longer than expected, it's okay for me to do my best until my dream comes true. I'm a little slow person but I'm making all my efforts to be a flight attendant. Let me tell you about it.

First, I have been doing various part-time jobs since I was in middle school. Before, I was inexperienced in how to deal with complaints of various people. But after years of working, I learned how to respond kindly to angry and demanding customers.

Second, I did many volunteer activities, including nursing home service and booth service for children. At the nursing home, I read books and played Jenga for the elderly. Through the booth activities, I enjoyed my work of attaching tattoo stickers to children. Through these activities, I learned how to treat people by age group and also learned how to communicate with various kinds of people.

Lastly, I'm a person who can embrace, differentiate, understand, and respect people diversity. In the plane, passengers having various cultures and personalities are on board . I think we need to provide services based on understanding and respecting those.

With the experiences and personalities I have, I will work and learn harder than others. And finally I will realize my dream as a flight attendant in the near future.

Thank you so much for being here with me as a witness.

My dream is to be a cabin crew member. It's a wonderful job where I can interact with passengers in a special environment and ensure their safety. Because my strengths lie in responsibility, passion, and perseverance, I believe these qualities will be beneficial in my dream.

I have a strong sense of responsibility and perseverance for what I want to achieve. I also have a passionate personality, so I give my best in any role, whether as a leader or a follower. I have experience working part-time at an academy, where I shared my knowledge to students and helped them with any areas they were struggling with. I believe this experience has contributed to my personal and professional growth.

These qualities enable me to organize school events as a member of the student council and represent students. And I am currently part of the promotion team to represent my major. While preparing many school events, we have to check thoroughly not to make mistakes. Through the experience, I was able to learn how to cooperate with others and how to communicate well with others. It helps me develop into a professional service provider who can work with responsibility.

Before I wrap up my speech, I'd like to share my motto with you, which is "Luck is always with me." I enjoy challenges but sometimes fear failure. Whenever that happens, I think of my motto and strive to overcome those fears. I hope luck will always be with me, and until I become a cabin crew member, I will do my best.

Thank you for listening.

Hello everyone! My name is Yeeun Kwon and I currently major in Air Travel and Tourism at Suwon Science College. Today, I'd like to talk about my goals and why I think I am suitable for the flight attendant job.

My goal is to become a reliable flight attendant who is responsible for the safety of passengers by gaining knowledge and expertise in safety and service.

When I was younger, I attended a summer camp in Canada, where I communicated with friends from various countries such as Japan and France. While experiencing different cultures in an open environment, such as running barefoot on the grass, I was able to have opportunities to broaden my cultural horizons and help me understand different cultures.

Through this experience, I became deeply interested in languages. As a result, I focused on studying English and Chinese and my communication skills naturally improved by constant practice. Foreign language skills are essential for smooth communication with passengers from diverse background, so I focus on improving them.

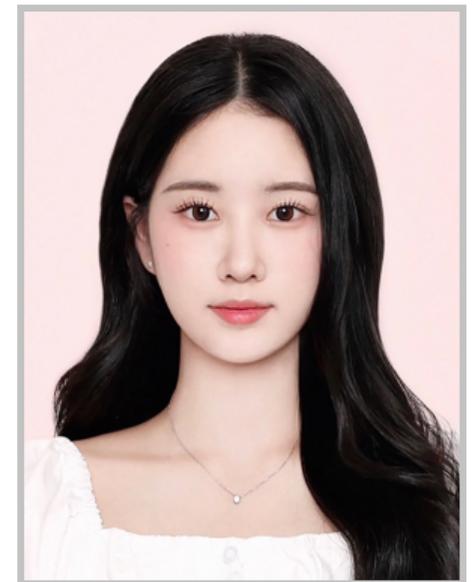

Next, I think that the flight attendant's physical strength is essential to ensure the passengers' safety. I've been doing various sports since I was a child. Especially in middle school, I joined the track and field team and won first place in the competition. I am still building up my physical strength by steadily doing aerobic exercise.

I think these physical strength and foreign language skills are suitable for the flight attendants' qualities. And to develop myself better, I'm committed to continuing my efforts and learning. I hope to see you again as a flight attendant.

Thank you for your attention.
